The Only Way

to make perfect flashlight pictures is by means of the IMP FLASHLITE GUN. No more of those glary, glassy stares! No more of those invariably awkward poses! No more made rushes to "get in" the picture. This little gun works in broad daylight, if you wish, and it acts simultaneously with the shutter even though it may be controlled from a distance. Take flashlight pictures of moving objects! Isn't it worth investigation? See it at our store.

HALTON HAS NEW IDEAS TO USE IN BOOSTING TRAVEL TO HAWAII

Fred J. Halton, who will take H. P. Wood's place at San Francisco as coast representative of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, was formerly agent at Hongkong for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, and is by experience and wide acquaintance especially fitted to help boost tourist travel to Hawaii.

Mr. Halton has visited Honolulu a number of times during his tenure of office with the Pacific Mail and has always been a booster for Hawaii in the Orient. His knowledge of traffic conditions and his acquaintance with traffic officials all over the mainland and the Orient should be a big help in boosting for Hawaii.

When seen today Mr. Halton said: "I realize the amount of work necessary to promote the best interests of Hawaii, and as I have been doing considerable boosting for some time the work will be a pleasure to me. I am going to make every effort to secure tourists to come to Hawaii, and in the slogan 'America First,' we should say 'Hawaii First.' One of the points that I have noticed that has made Hawaii known throughout the country is the Hawaiian music. That is something that the tourist will enjoy, and I believe that the work of the musicians on the mainland is one of the best advertisements that Hawaii can receive.

"The legends of Hawaii and the romances are other things that I believe should be brought out. In my experience with tourists I have found that they do not care much about how many tons of sugar is sold, or what the earnings of the street railway company amounts to. They want something that is different. The old legends of Norway has done more to advertise that country than the amount of fish sold.

"In my lectures on the coast I shall tell of the old legends and the old romances, and then I am sure the tourists will want to see the Volcano and the Paoli. With the hard headed businessman it is different, but for the traveler we must use something that is entirely different than they have been used to seeing. I predict that the tourist travel will double in a few years. With the proper service Hawaii is destined to be first in point of interest to the globe trotter. Another point that I shall try to look into is the problem of the vacation for the men in the big companies on the coast. Every year there are hundreds of young men who go from Los Angeles to Seattle and Portland for their vacations. There are hundreds who go to Los Angeles from the Northwest. They perhaps do not spend a large sum, but they will be boosters for a city, and Los Angeles and Portland are always glad to welcome them. I believe that part of this traffic can be turned to Hawaii by good service."

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs"
Can't Harm Tender Stomach or Bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

IDENTIFIED IN MOST COLOSSAL WAY WITH ALLIES

(From the American Review of Reviews for November.)

We have to ask ourselves some searching questions in all sincerity, if Germany seemed hard to deal with, and if German public opinion seemed embittered against us, was it not largely due to the fact that we were demanding that Germany observe every jot and tittle of international law, while we were submitting without complaint to an unlimited interference with neutral rights at sea on the part of Great Britain?

And at the very same time were we not ourselves violating the spirit of neutrality by greedily seeking immense profits in the business of supplying Germany's enemies with munitions of war? For better or worse, we have established our moral position. We are identified in the most colossal way with the cause of the Allies.

The official representatives of England and France who came here recently on a successful mission to secure financial credit and support with which to carry on the war, were received with ovations. The head of that war mission sat at Washington on the bench of the supreme court, by the side of the chief justice.

Lord Reading is lord chief justice of England and is in every sense worthy of the highest personal and official courtesy when he comes to America. But we are supposed to be a neutral country; and if the president of the great supreme court of Germany that sits at Leipzig should come here to borrow money and strengthen the sinews of war for his country, he would seem to be entitled to expect the same kind of treatment that was shown to Lord Reading. Would he receive it?

It is not necessary to pursue this discussion. It is merely desirable that we should think clearly and candidly, and not deceive ourselves as to the bearings of our recent conduct whether as a government or as a business community.

The Pennsylvania Railroad asked for bids on 9,000 new steel freight cars, to cost about $10,000,000.

Fire destroyed St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church at Camden, N. J. The loss is $15,000.

Fire gutted the dwelling of Giles Lennon on Wooster street, Ansonia, causing damages estimated at $3,000. Two hundred Vassar college students aided suffragettes of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in watching the polls there.
